Subject: The Impact of Organized Retailing on the Unorganized Retail Sector—A Study by ICRIER.

Sir,

1 am directed to convey the sanction of the Government of India to a Study to be assigned to the Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relations (ICRIER) on the Impact of organized retailing on the unorganized retail sector.

Objective of the Study :

2. There has been considerable growth in organized retailing in the country in recent years and estimates show a much faster growth in the future. Major industrial houses have entered this area and have announced the future expansion plans. Transnational corporations are also seeking to come to India and set up retail chains in collaboration with Indian big companies, Divergent views have been expressed on the impact of the growth in the organized retail in the country. Concerns have been raised that the growth of organized retailing may have an adverse impact on the retailers in the unorganized sector. It has also been argued that growth of organised retailing will yield efficiencies in intermediary stages enabling higher prices or access to markets to producers (including farmers or small producers) or lower prices to consumers. To reconcile such variations, an in-depth analytical study on the possible effects of organized retailing in India is essential.

Terms of Reference

3. In order to assess the impact of growing organized retail on different aspects of the economy, ICRIER is appointed to carry out a study on organized retail focused on the following:

(ii) Effect on employment

(iii) Impact on consumers

(iv) Impact on farmers and manufacturers

(v) Impact on prices

(vi) Overall impact on economic growth

ICRIER will analyse the above in the context of a growth scenario of 7-10 per cent per annum in the next 5 years and in the light of practice in other fast growing emerging market economies.

Methodology

4. The study by ICRIER will involve the following:

Interviews of major players in the organized retailing, manufacturers, and of producers including associations of farmers.

Questionnnaire-based survey of unorganized retailers, including vendors especially around organized retail shops
